

Aquatec Environmental Ltd has expanded its already substantial site at Wulkuraka, Ipswich by a further 4Ha. The office and factory site now includes more than 11Ha, providing a strong base for future expansion.

Following recent expansion of the factory complex to include expanded fitting bays and improved craneage, construction has now commenced on a major development of the office complex which will double the available space for engineering, drafting and project management activities.

These investments are expected to cost approximately $4m and will contribute to our goal of developing a world class facility for manufacture and delivery of water technology and infrastructure. They continue to strengthen our ability to service the continued strong growth in the Australian water industry.
